

Literature Circle Project – On-sentence Summary

Just Good Friends by Penny Hancock

- One sentence summary (low-intermediate to advanced)

A charming young lady named Stephany, who enjoys a freewheeling lifestyle to fulfill her own selfish needs, went on a trip with her trustworthy, but somewhat naive boyfriend Max to visit a beach flat in Genoa, Italy, whose owner is Carlo, an “old friend” of Stephany’s, but Max and Stephany have a problem – Stephany’s infidelity, to say the least – and they break up when they come back to England because she had a tryst with Carlo, much to Ruth’s (Carlos’ wife) lament. (106w)